

WILSON SAYS U. S. WILL NEVER FORGET

President Addresses Statement to Soldiers in "Right About" Publication of Yank Soldiers.

WOUNDS BADGES OF HONOR

Prize Given Americans—Says, They Are Exalted—Must Express Gratitude Practically.

NEW YORK, March 5.—President Wilson, in a statement published in today's issue of Right About, the official publication of the American Expeditionary Force, declared that America would not forget the sacrifices that American soldiers made in France and made and that their wounds, are the noblest badges of honor any man has ever worn.

The statement was sent to the magazine last night just after the president had delivered his opera house address.

"I could tell you," he wrote, "what the sacrifices you have made have meant to the world. I could tell you what history for all time to come will say of you and the sufferings you have experienced on your great campaign. But these things other men will tell you."

He then reminded you that the wounds you bear are the noblest badges of honor any man has ever worn; that they are the noblest badges of honor in the minds and hearts of your countrymen and of all the world. I prefer to assure you that America realizes that she has no more solemn obligations, no more patriotic duty than to express in grateful terms the gratitude that every American man, woman and child feels for every one of you.

"America will not forget."

SCHAEFER TODAY BETTER THAN DAD AT HIS BEST

CHICAGO, March 5.—William F. Hoppe, sole proprietor of the 132 championship emblem, may not hold the billiard prowess of Walker Cochran or Jacob Schaefer, Jr., in high esteem, although he admits that the younger player is a better player than either of the youngsters unless there is a wager of $2,500, might be taken to indicate that he has considerable respect for their ability as backliners.

Mauree (Sally) and Tom Gallagher, two of the best judges of billiard skill in the world, unite in the opinion that Cochran and Schaefer have reached a point in their careers where they are able to give a good account in a match or tournament with any living players which, of course, includes Hoppe.

It is said Gallagher also are of the opinion that young Schaefer as he stands today is superior as a backliner to his father when the elder Schaefer was at his best.

That boy Schaefer reminds me strongly of Frank Tree when that great player was at the zenith of his career," says Gallagher. "Young Tree is much better than his father was. The son lacks the daring recklessness of the 'Wharf' who counted when no one expected him to do so and who missed when it seemed certain he would count."

The youngsters work with the head ball in perfect and his position play is remarkable. When he misses it is by a narrow margin, for he seldom shoots that the cue ball does not find the mark."

RETURNED RED CROSS NURSES SEEK WORK

In addition to the many applications received by the United States employment service from returned soldiers, sailors and marines, several women who have been in the Red Cross service overseas, are seeking work. Three letters have been received from women this week, who have seen several months service with the Red Cross in France. This is a new phase of the employment service, which they have had no experience. Every effort is being made to secure positions for these three women, asserted Mr. Lee.

Several letters have been received from soldiers in the Canadian army who are about to be discharged, who desire to locate in Tulsa, asking for information concerning employment, expressing their desire to locate in the oil fields.

May Allison, a Vampire

May Allison.

Just look who's "vamping" now. Would you ever believe that the dainty, fair-haired May Allison, who has been called by some poetic press agent, if there is such a thing, "the modest violet of the screen." This is May's very first vampire gown and she wears it in her newest picture, "Foggy Does Her Darndest." Although in the picture she isn't a siren all of the time she certainly looks here as if she had "done her darndest" to try to be one. May even seems to be getting a thrill herself from each daring conquest. We will have to admit that even with the correct vamp pose, the alluring cherry, the delectable gown and the snakelike train, which is not all in the picture, May does not look exactly like a breaker of hearts and wrecker of homes.

SOLDIERS CAN GET BONUS BLANKS FROM RED CROSS

Following the announcement by the government that all discharged soldiers, sailors and marines would receive a bonus of $50, the home service section of the Red Cross has had the typewritten forms of application filled out for the discharged men and will aid anyone needing assistance in filling them out.

The details for securing the bonus is simple, but certain information must be sent with the application, including the discharge certificate, or order for same, final pay voucher, name and place of the first unit assigned or attached and the present address of the applicant. All papers will be returned with the bonus check and no further correspondence will have to be had with the zone officer.
